Identifying Clauses in Complex Sentences Worksheet

A complex sentence has an independent clause and a dependent clause. An independent clause is a complete sentence that can stand on its own. A dependent or subordinate clause is not a complete sentence for it cannot stand on its own. Dependent clauses start with subordinating conjunctions such as: after, because, since, although, even though, before, unless, whenever etc...

Directions: Read each sentence below. Underline the independent clause once and the dependent or subordinate clause twice.

Example A: Though he was late, he still made a contribution.
 Example B: Though he was late, he still made a contribution.

1. After the game, we all went out for pizza.

2. Although we were late, we were still let into the show.

4. Even though they did the work, they will still have to do it again.

5. We went to the fair, since we had the time.

5. Whenever you are ready, you need to let me know.

f. Wherever you are, I will find you.

5. Before the game, I went to the store and bought some gum.

10. Because of the exam, I will be able to go to college.

Contractions

Writing and contractions we often combine two words to form one word. When we do this, we combine a letter or letters with an apostrophe. These combined words are called contractions.

die + we = we'll what + is = what's they + are = they're would + not = wouldn't

Adjectives

Adjectives describe what a noun is like or what it's doing. You'll see adjectives used with nouns all around you. Here are several spots of adjectives describing someone, something and a place.

Quantity = some pencils
 Number = ten years
 Possession = my dog
 Describing = big girl

He is a friendly person.

Prefixes

A prefix is a letter added to the front of a word to change the word's meaning. Some common prefixes include un, in and dis.

is + visible = invisible like + like = dislike up + turn = turn not + finished = unfinished

Homographs

Words that are spelled the same way but have two different meanings are called homographs. The words sometimes sound different.

one (Samuel & I saw one cat)
 one (Samuel & I saw one elephant) when (Sam had a one hour lesson) you (you can't be one day for me)
 the (the one in the room)
